Holland Bears It's Burden Of Future Welfare

WILL PAY TO THE COUNTY
UNIT $1,250 MONTHLY AS
CITY'S SHARE

Frank Van Ry Has Been Approved
Chief of Police of this City by
Mayor and Aldermen.

When some time ago a new "set-up" was made where county units were compelled to pay part of the expense of future welfare, Holland was the first to come forward with her share of $1,000 a month. Miss Deborah Veneklasen, in a lengthy out very understanding communication, pointed out to the council that each unit in the county, townships, villages and cities were asked to pay one-third of the welfare expense in order to get two-thirds from federal and state sources. The communication pointed out that Holland's share would be $1,250 per month, or $250 more than before.

Mayor Bosch spoke in favor of passing the resolution covering this expenditure, stating that Holland had never been niggardly in giving, nor had it ever been slow. He said:

"This is our burden. At the same time it is our duty to see that there is no distress within the borders of Ottawa county."

He stated that no one begrudged the money if it was properly applied, and safeguarded with an economic law of common sense in the expenditures. When a vote was taken, Alderman Bultman of the Fifth ward was the only alderman to vote against the proposal. However, that undoubtedly was because no limit of time was placed upon the expenditure. Mayor Bosch stated that he did not believe the alderman understood the resolution thoroughly, and had City Clerk Peterson read it over in detail. Mr. Bultman stated that he was not against the expenditure, but there should be a time set when payment should cease. Mayor Bosch stated that the end of relief work was far from being over, and there was very little danger of any overlapping. When the vote was again taken it was unanimous.

According to the new "set-up," the county will have to foot a relief bill of $115,000 annually.

The Ottawa county road commission has absorbed considerable of this through road work, approximately $25,000.

The police commission of Holland at Monday's meeting voted to have Acting Chief Van Ry retained as the chief of police. The council last evening concurred in this action in approving the action of the police board, thus doing away with a very vexing situation that has occupied the minds of both bodies for some time. Mayor Bosch, when the matter came, stated that before this was suggested he had mentioned the matter to John Donnelly of the police commission, stating that he felt that the council would be willing to stand by the appointment of Frank Van Ry as chief, pointing out that his former record as an official and as chief for a score of years had been above the average, and that Mr. Van Ry not only knew the law, but was especially capable, tolerant and kindly to young offenders who came before him and needed guidance rather than chastisement. The mayor brought out several other commendable points relative to Mr. Van Ry's career, and stated he felt that in order to give moral support, there should be a unanimous vote from the common council. When the vote was cast, Alderman Steffens of the Fourth ward was the only one to vote against the approval of Mr. Van Ry. When the mayor asked point blank what the reasons were, Mr. Steffens stated:

"A few years ago we demoted him because he was too old. He must have found the fountain of youth since that time."

This brought a smile to the faces of all present, but the aldermen were convinced that regardless of age Mr. Van Ry was still a splendid chief and added dignity to that office. Finally, Mr. Steffens rather reluctantly voted to make it unanimous.

Mayor Bosch wants to turn the swamp into a "paradise" or a garden spot. He had plenty of praise for everyone, giving credit where credit was due. He pointed out how Mr. Drinkwater of the Second ward had turned a pool of stench into garden spots, and he said that under the right direction, the large swamp could be turned into a veritable place of beauty, a garden for every needy person in the city. He said that there was no soil so fertile as the swamp affords, and while the gardeners to be, could not bank the soil in the beginning, Holland must see to it that the proper plowing apparatus be put to work, in order that everyone who needs can, through his own efforts, supply his own wants in the way of winter provisions. The mayor said emphatically that this must not go by default next year. Engineer Zuidema stated that it would be difficult to use horses and plows and mentioned instances where these were mired during last summer and were rescued with great difficulty. He suggested caterpillar plows to do the work. The raising of land in places and the widening of ditches will be the first work on the program.

Some unexpected fireworks came from the audience when Mr. Jacob Weller in a loud voice condemned the aldermen of the Sixth ward for not having certain streets fixed. He said that in the summer they were dust holes and in the winter they were sink holes. He referred especially to Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-first streets at Harrison and Van Raalte avenues. He stated that just now they were veritable lakes and that a few days ago when he passed them with his car, he nearly glazed himself. He passed a young man, nearly

COUNCIL NOTES

A. I. Bickford asked for a license to sell beer in the Bull's Coffee shop. It is understood that a transfer has been made and the former proprietor had a license. But the state does not permit a transfer of license, so Mr. Bickford of Holland was granted a new license.

The American Legion band has invited the mayor and common council to come to their annual band meeting December 4. The invitation was signed by Harold Karsten and Raymond Knoohuizen, president and secretary. The band feels that the city has stood by the organization loyally in the way of finance, and the city fathers are entitled to hear the financial report and to participate in the evening's program.

John F. Donnelly made complaint to the aldermen that he had to stand in line an hour and thirty-five minutes to vote on election day and that scores of other voters had to do likewise. He asked that the city consider putting two voting precincts in the Fifth ward and thus eliminate the congestion. Mr. Bosch suggested that the aldermen of the Fifth ward look into this matter, and make a report soon.

Alderman Bultman, who is head of the sidewalk committee, brought in a very interesting report stating that most of the summer there were two gangs of men working on sidewalk repairs and part of the time three gangs. Four hundred pieces of property had been improved through renewed walks. Some were small jobs, in other cases there was considerable repairing and relaying to do. Many street approaches, crossing and alley ways were also renewed and improved. It took 450 barrels of concrete, 386 cubic feet of gravel. The work will be continued next spring.

When this matter of repairing sidewalks came up, Mayor Bosch stated: "Now, many people did not have their sidewalks repaired, and their turn will come next spring. This year the FERA has paid for the labor while the city has paid for the material which is to be assessed to the property later. I wish it understood that those citizens who could not be reached with repairs this fall, must be given that privilege next year, whether they have the FERA or not. It would be unfair to deprive them of this benefit when others have been so favored." The aldermen went on record as being in favor of Mayor Bosch's suggestion.

A Mr. Bos asked for the privilege of dynamiting some stumps in the swamp off College avenue. The aldermen frowned upon this suggestion, for dynamite might do more damage than the stumps were worth. The price of the dynamite would also exceed the value of the stumps. For a moment the aldermen were "stumped," for it was a poor man, but the ordinance reads that there be no dynamiting within the city limits. Alderman Drinkwater suggested that the man be given some kind of a license. However, he was referred to the welfare department, since relief work should go through on channel.

The city hall will not have a new vestibule at the River street entrance. Alderman Drinkwater, who was on that committee, referred the matter to Alderman De Cock who had plans for a substantial structure costing $600. The vestibule was for the purpose of keeping out the winter cold and thus save cost and save fuel. Mayor Bosch took a hand in the matter at that time, suggested that $600 was a great deal to spend when the money was so sorely needed elsewhere. He said that the city hall had been without a vestibule for 25 years and while it undoubtedly was a fine thing it could wait a few years longer and until the city was in a better position to take care of it. The aldermen did not press the matter and took kindly to the mayor's suggestion. There will be no vestibule.

Alderman Huyser stated that because the city assessor's office had been remodeled, the rooms should also be rewired. The common council concurred in Mr. Huyser's suggestion, and a bid of $21 by White Bros. Electric Co. was accepted.

Alderman Bultman of the sidewalk committee was loud in his praises in behalf of City Engineer Zuidema for his able assistance and suggestions in the sidewalk repairing campaign which started in July, and continued until the first part of this week.

Alderman Kalkman either has a chip on his shoulder or has no sense of humor. Alderman Art Drinkwater has been doing a great work in the second ward cleaning up, and received the praise not only of the mayor but the other aldermen as well. Among those who gave the second ward alderman unstinted praise was Mr. Bultman, head of the sidewalk committee. In concluding he laughingly said: "If Art is through in the Second ward, he might do some cleaning near the Pere Marquette tracks in the Fifth ward, and the citizens in the Fifth ward will thank him still further." That got a raise out of Kalkman, who brought in uncalculated personalities that had no place in the discussion. Alderman Kalkman voted thanks to Mr. Drinkwater for his work as suggested by Mr. Bultman, and then became wrathful because of Bultman's personal praise and the Fifth ward's joking remark about coming to the Fifth ward and cleaning up, too. Cornell, you're a good fellow, but you take yourself too seriously. It's easy enough to find fault on every occasion, but a great many misunderstandings can be avoided by first gaining a better understanding of the problems.

Mayor Bosch became wrathful with Alderman Kalkman's pronouncements directed at Alderman Bultman. He said: "Cornell, I wish you would have some sense of humor. We are endeavoring to praise Alderman Drinkwater. We are not condemning him."

Gil-Boat Co. To Start Within Thirty Days

SUFFICIENT CAPITAL AVAILABLE AND PLANS ARE UNDER WAY

William M. Connelly said late today that Captain M. L. Gilbert states he has sufficient capital from men in Indiana so there will be no delay in the opening of the Gil-Boat Company, now located in the two remaining Ottawa Furniture company buildings.

Mr. Gilbert has remodeled these buildings and they are now in fine shape and at no expense to the city or to the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Connelly states that the equipment has been ordered and will soon be installed and it is expected that by January 1, the new industry will be in full running order. The Gil-Boat Company will make row boats and outboard motor boats and it expects later to build life boats and small tankers, suitable for gasoline, oils and other fluid freight.

Mr. Gilbert is very enthusiastic about his new enterprise and with the upturn of business feels that there are great possibilities for small lake craft in most every line. The Gil-Boat Company is again a departure from the regular lines of manufacturing, a fact which the Holland Chamber of Commerce has had in mind since its reorganization a year and a half ago. It is diversified industries that Holland wants, and judging from the list given in the News last week, the chamber is meeting with a success along these lines that is indeed gratifying.

According to Mr. Connelly, Mr. Gilbert states that when the plant is running from 20 to 25 men will be employed in the beginning.

MISSIONARIES FROM AFRICA
ARRIVE HOME ON FURLOUGH

Just before going to press word was received here that Miss Jennie Stielstra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Stielstra of Lakewood boulevard, and Miss Bertha Sagers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sagers of Muskegon, will arrive in Grand Rapids at 8 p. m. this evening (Thursday). Both the young ladies have been doing missionary work in Africa, being stationed at Lupwe, Northern Nigeria, British West Africa, station at which Mrs. Edgar Smith, formerly Miss Nelle Breen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Breen of this city, and her husband are working at the present time.

Miss Stielstra and Miss Sagers first went to Africa about two and a half years ago, leaving this country with Miss Johanna Venstra, pioneer missionary to the Sudan, who passed away a little more than a year ago. Miss Venstra and the two young ladies were working at the Lupwe station at the time of Miss Venstra's death.

On October 10, just prior to their leaving Africa for the United States, Miss Stielstra and Miss Sagers witnessed the marriage of Miss Breen to Mr. Edgar H. Smith of London, Miss Stielstra attending Miss Breen as bridesmaid. Many relatives and friends from Holland and Muskegon motored to Grand Rapids to greet the returning missionaries on their arrival.

FIRM CHANGES NAME ONLY

The Leeuw and Ter Haar Co. on Central avenue, Holland, has changed the firm name to H. and B. Ter Haar Co.

There will be no change in the personnel of their present business "set-up" aside from the name. Everyone will be retained in their present positions.

The firm will continue to sell Chrysler, Plymouth and Oldsmobile cars.

Mr. and Mrs. William De Does of Kalamazoo announce the birth of a son on November 15, named Ronald William. Mrs. De Does was formerly Miss Nelle Slager of this city.

Mrs. J. H. Geerlings, wife of Rev. John H. Geerlings of New Holland, South Dakota, has returned to her home after spending seven weeks at Mayo Brothers hospital in Rochester, Minnesota, where she submitted to an operation. She is reported as slowly improving. Mrs. Geerlings has many relatives and friends in this city.

Mike Stahcum, 58, Casco township, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was to be arraigned on Thursday.

'Should have the ladies' and men's rest rooms separated. He stated that no place should be given a license in the future unless this was part of the agreement. The mayor and aldermen thought likewise, and undoubtedly there will be some plumbing in the buildings occupied by beer licensees.

Alderman Thompson suggested further that the city clerk write to Congressman Maves preventing the General Meade, the harbor sloop, from dumping its silt in Lake Macatawa, instead of taking it out to Lake Michigan. The General Meade has been taking it out of one spot of the lake and depositing it in another, with the result that deep places in front of boat houses have become shallow, slimy pools. The aldermen want the sand sloop lead to be deposited out in Lake Michigan, rather than have it deposited in other parts of the lake, much to the annoyance and expense of the property owners. Mr. Thompson contends Congressman Maves will hear from this soon.

Mayor Bosch became wrathful with Alderman Kalkman's pronouncements directed at Alderman Bultman. He said: "Cornell, I wish you would have some sense of humor. We are endeavoring to praise Alderman Drinkwater. We are not condemning him."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

All night long after election day bulletins were received by the Republicans at Lyceum Hall and by the Democrats at their club room. As each dispatch was read, it was hailed with cheers or jeers according to which way the telegram read. Old and young alike were fairly crazed with excitement and it was broad daylight before many sought their homes for needed sleep. Note: Well, your editor was there, well guarded, on the hand of father Leonard Mulder who had been a lifelong Republican and publisher of De Groendwet, then a power in the community. Dispatches came by messenger boy from the C. & W. M. depot. These were received by ticker and taken in longhand by the operator. Not like today by a machine that typewrites the whole story without operators on the receiving end. On this particular election it was not definitely known that Grover Cleveland had beaten James G. Blaine until days afterward.

William Baumgartel, our first ward barber, says that if the uncertainty as to who is President remains much longer in doubt he will have to charge Republicans 50c for a shave. Republican faces have been unusually long, that is certain.

While the Democratic procession was at a halt at the foot of Eighth st., several bricks and other missiles were thrown into the procession by standers. One of the bricks hit young "Barney" De Vries—who clerks in the store of Paul and Andrew Steketee—on the head, cutting a severe gash in his scalp. Dr. Wm. Van Putten dressed the wound. Note: During these early day campaigns, Republicans and Democrats threw their patronage to men of their respective parties until the campaign scars were again healed. For example, the parents of the young man wounded in this story were Democrats at the time, the store he worked in was Democratic and the doctor quickly secured was a Democrat. But the fellow who threw the brick, we are wondering who he was?

Judge Philip Padgham of the Allegan and Ottawa circuit, enjoys a good story even if it is on himself. Here is one on the judge. The other day Judge Padgham left the Allegan county courthouse for dinner at noon. As he was walking he saw Tom Crocker from his neighborhood, going home in a buggy. Hoping to get a ride to his home, he hailed Tom who immediately allowed the judge to climb aboard. As Padgham was comfortably seated he stared in amazement toward the hitching posts along the courthouse square and there saw his own horse and rig where he had left it when he

OF SUNFISH CLAN

The bluegill is the largest and best of all the sunfishes for angling purposes, reaching a length of 14 inches and frequently a weight of more than a pound and a half.

A favorite of fishermen in lower Michigan, it is one of the gamiest of fish and is unsurpassed in table qualities.

It is easily caught since it swims in schools and will take almost any kind of bait. When one bluegill is hooked the angler can almost be certain of taking more.

MICHIGAN HENS FIRST
IN LAYING CONTEST

A pen of White Leghorns owned by E. C. Foreman, Lowell, Mich., set an all-time record for the Michigan Egg Laying Contest at Michigan State College by laying 2,755 eggs during the year. This contest in which 1,000 birds complete draws entries from many states. Awards in the contest are made on a point basis. Each egg counts a point if it is of the proper size and weight. Underweight eggs are given a penalty so it is possible for a hen to lay the greatest number of eggs and still fail to win because some of the eggs were too small. This situation occurred in the contest. First place went to a Barred Rock hen owned by the Parker Poultry Farm, Ann Arbor, Mich. There were several other winners from different parts of the country. Layers from Zeeland and Holland didn't seem to be present.

Grand Rapids teachers are anxious to be paid every two weeks instead of once a month. Supt. Leslie A. Butler told the board of education at a recent meeting, and added he thought the time had come to make this change.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Alderman Frank Brieve, at the common council meeting, brought in his poor report, $100.50 during the past 3 weeks—$33.50 per week—and then the aldermen thought this was high.

Isaac Knutson, 394 West 16th, died at the age of 63 years. Interment took place in Graafschap cemetery.

John Lokker, former fireman, was married to Miss Evelyn Mulder.

In October issue of "Personal Efficiency," a magazine published by the LaSalle Extension university of Chicago, appears a story of Mr. Charles D. Karr of Holland. Several weeks ago this magazine had offered $100 for the best story used in advertising LaSalle courses. Mr. Karr had received the publishers' usual rate per word with the encouraging statement that the Holland man had a chance to win the prize. The contest was open to more than 50,000 business men and women and it was rather gratifying to know that Mr. Karr's story was the first to be published. The title of Mr. Karr's story was "The Straight Course." It covers 6 columns of the magazine and tells the story of how "Fred," at a beach hotel with his young wife, won two boats by one "The Roamer," and the other the "North Star." The latter easily shot ahead of the former and "Fred" knows that the latter had some time ago had new machinery put into her that had given her new life and the ability to distance her sister ship. This gives him the idea of having new life put into himself which he proceeds to do by taking a LaSalle course. A year later he is again at the beach hotel but now a much more prosperous "Fred." While there, his "boss" comes in and appoints him general sales manager at $7,500—according to the story, the new machinery put into his mental engine room by virtue of the efficiency course helped him to shoot ahead and give him a real chance in life. Note: Apparently Charles Karr has applied this story to himself and today he is at the head of a fast growing industry, nation-wide and even beyond in its scope of distribution. The Charles Karr Mattress reminds one of ease and comfort. However, the establishment of this going concern was not a "laying down" job. The success of the plant, together with the high ideals of the then young story writer, brought him more than the $100 for a story. He received from this community the good will, confidence and respect that such accomplishments deserve.

The Holland City State bank moved into its new quarters Tuesday. It goes without saying that the banking office is one of the most beautiful in the state. Just before the bank's opening day on June 30, 1893, the Holland City News gave the following:

"The money for the 'city clock' to be placed in the Holland City State bank block, having all been subscribed, Mr. John Raven informs us it will only be a few weeks and the machinery will be running." Editor's note: You notice John Raven in the picture. John was employed, in fact was the manager, and had an interest in the L. P. Huseen store on River avenue, and later this store was moved to the Holland City bank building, a private institution conducted by Jacob Van Putten, Sr., with Cornelius Ver Schure, the cashier. The Holland City State bank is the outgrowth of that bank. The L. P. Huseen store, moved to that little bank building which was located on the site of the Jake Fries book store, and later the jewelry store was owned by John Raven, who has been a resident of this city ever since. That's how John Raven became connected up with the clock.

It would seem that something went wrong, for a long period elapsed in going over the files, before the clock was actually in operation. On November 11, 1893, the following item appears:

"Holland can now boast of a town clock after much vexatious delay. Jeweler John Raven has finally succeeded in installing his machinery in the tower of the new bank building where both night and day it is accessible to the eye. The dial is four feet, nine inches, and the cost is $600. The furnishings of the clock is the Seth-Thomas Clock Company of New York City, and let us say that this wonderful concern is still in existence and known the nation over as the makers of fine time pieces. The News continues:

"The public-spirited citizens and firms who are indebted to for this fine time piece, donated largely for public convenience, are the following: Cornelius Ver Schure, William H. Beach, John C. Post, James Huntley, contractor, Jacob Van Putten, Sr., Jacob Van Putten, Jr., (fire chief), William Huseen Clothing company, Kanters Bros. Hardware, George Van Duren, E. Vander Veen and Sons, Waverly Stone company, De Groendwet, Ottawa County Times, Holland City News, Attorney Patrick H. McBride, D. B. K. Van Raalte, H. Mulder, Isaac Cappon, George P. ten and Sons, Boot & Kramer, grocers; Anton Seif, Marinus Van Putten, W. B. Griffin, Saugauke, Zeeland Brick company and Cornelius Ver Schure and Grand Haven."

Well, that gives you the clock's history at the time of its inception. However, all during these forty-one years the clock has been a faithful servant, and if you figure minutely what work it has done, you can get some conception of our much-campaigned national debt. The clock has ticked off 1,440 minutes a day, 525,600 minutes a year, 21,648,000 minutes in 41 years, or 1,292,976,000 minutes in that length of time. It is said that our national debt is $18 billion. Well take out your pencil and paper and figure out at the rate a dollar a second, and find out how many more years the old town clock would have to live to tick off the amount of our national debt.

Anyway, encourage the Holland City State bank staff in their efforts to rejuvenate the clock in the steeple, giving it a new forty-one year lease of life.

The Town Clock Now Survives Four Decades

GETTING A LITTLE WEAK IN THE HANDS, BUT STILL FUNCTIONING

Holland City News Files Give
Unique History of Main Street Time Piece.

We all know the song of grandfather's clock that was too tall for the shelf and kept on ticking until the old man died. Well, that isn't the clock we're going to talk about. The clock in question has been running since November 11, 1893, which, by the way, was long before Armistice Day was conceived. Your editor is intimately acquainted with the face of that clock since for 41 years a side glance from his desk in his office has given him the time of day. The old clock has been ever so faithful all these years, just as faithful as Carl Mapes has been in Congress. It never misses, only when a sleet storm covers its face, but, of course, Carl hasn't that to contend with.

On November 11, the old clock in the Holland City State bank was 41 years old and then something happened. Some of the gadgets failed to function properly and the hands failed to go round "and stopped still," not to go again until fixed. The bank authorities have been having a man there fussing with the clock, but it is far from satisfactory. Al Joldersma says "we'll find the difficulty soon, and undoubtedly Holland's 'Big Ben' will run 40 years more."

Anyway, nobody "kicks" about the clock when it runs perfectly day in and day out. But when the "old boy" gets tired and goes on a strike, then the "man in the street" hollers. The timepiece has been a great convenience and an unusually fine advertisement. Only when it features long much of its value.

But then we were going to tell you about the clock. The building of the Holland City State bank was begun in 1892 as the large engraved stone under the clock indicates. However, it took the greater part of a year to complete this beautiful building. You would think that Holland had no labor troubles, but just at that time besides the bank, Graves hall and Winan's chapel were being built besides several houses on the principal streets. Holland became a veritable stone quarries, and with the surplus building and the importation of several outside masons there were several strikes during that year. Anyway, on June 24, 1893, the News says as follows:

"The Holland City State bank moved into its new quarters Tuesday. It goes without saying that the banking office is one of the most beautiful in the state. Just before the bank's opening day on June 30, 1893, the Holland City News gave the following:

"L. P. Huseen, the River street jeweler, has charged himself with procuring a 'city clock' for the tower of the new bank at River and Eighth streets, the cost to be about $600. Already he is meeting with good success in soliciting funds. The dial of the clock will be four feet in diameter, and at night the clock will be illuminated by electric light. The clock will be of the best material and manufacture and warranted not to vary ten seconds within a month. We trust Mr. H. will meet with general encouragement at the hands of our citizens since this enterprise is a worthy one."

On July 29 the News gives the following:

"The money for the 'city clock' to be placed in the Holland City State bank block, having all been subscribed, Mr. John Raven informs us it will only be a few weeks and the machinery will be running." Editor's note: You notice John Raven in the picture. John was employed, in fact was the manager, and had an interest in the L. P. Lincoln's Proclamation

On the next page of this issue there appears together with a fine and dignified picture of Abraham Lincoln, a message from the martyred president, calling for a day of prayer on March 30, 1863. The proclamation is the property of former Mayor E. P. Stephan who kindly loaned the copy to the Holland City News. This publication feels that there should not only be a proclamation of Thanksgiving but one of supplication as well. For that reason this document delivered when the nation was torn with strife is indeed appropriate at a time when prayer and thanksgiving are inseparable.

FIRST SUPERVISORS

Word was received at Holland Monday telling of the passing of Mrs. Hendrika TenCate, who died Monday afternoon at labor sanitarium at Benton Harbor. Mrs. Ten Cate was the daughter of the late Wiepke and Hendrika Diekema, who were pioneer settlers of Holland.

The Diekema home in the early days was located just beyond the city limits, and is still in existence, slightly removed from the spot it once occupied. Your editor remembers the Diekema home in the earlier days as being right across from the Indian burying grounds, the mounds being in among a large clump of Pine trees, that being the site of the old Indian village, and many of the mounds were still in evidence when industry obliterated what was left of these grounds. A few of the Pine trees are still there.

Mrs. Ten Cate was the eldest sister of the late Gerrit J. Diekema, who at the time of his death was minister at The Hague. Mrs. Ten Cate became seriously ill after suffering a stroke of apoplexy early in 1933, and had been confined to her bed since that time. A few months after being stricken she was removed to the Tabor sanitarium and was confined there until death came Monday.

For the past few years Mrs. Ten Cate had made her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Dean of Benton Harbor. Before that time she was a resident of Holland and she had many intimate friends and relatives living here. For many years she was a devout member of Third Reformed church of this city and took a deep interest in the Women's Adult Bible class, the Women's Missionary society and the Ladies Aid society. While at Benton Harbor she was identified with the Congregational church and was connected with the Women's Bible class of that church. She also made many friends and was much beloved by her associates in that city.

Mrs. Ten Cate was born in Holland in the early settlement days on March 25, 1854, and was 80 years old on her last birthday which was fittingly celebrated by her and her children. It was her privilege to see the beginning, the development and the continued growth of Holland. At one time the Diekema homestead was at least a half mile beyond the city limits. Today the Diekema addition, later developed, is part of Holland, and now the city is extended far beyond her former borders where in the earlier days only a few scattering farm houses stood, the Diekema homestead being one of them.

Mrs. Ten Cate is survived by a daughter, Mrs. O. W. Dean of Benton Harbor, a son, Daniel Ten Cate; two sisters, Mrs. Martha D. Kollen, and Mrs. Winnie C. Lokker, and a brother, Albert Diekema, all of this city; and three grandchildren, Myra Ten Cate and Vernon D. Ten Cate of this city, and Mildred A. Dean of Benton Harbor.

The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the home of the son, Mr. Daniel Ten Cate, Maple avenue and Fourteenth street, Dr. E. J. Blekkink, her former pastor, of Third Reformed church, officiating. Interment took place in the Diekema plot in Pilgrim home cemetery.

The many beautiful floral tributes were indicative of the esteem in which Mrs. Ten Cate was held in both Holland and Benton Harbor.

Well, that gives you the clock's history at the time of its inception. However, all during these forty-one years the clock has been a faithful servant, and if you figure minutely what work it has done, you can get some conception of our much-campaigned national debt. Holland Bears It's Burden Of Future Welfare

WILL PAY TO THE COUNTY
UNIT $1,250 MONTHLY AS
CITY'S SHARE

Frank Van Ry Has Been Approved
Chief of Police of This City by
Mayor and Aldermen.

When some time ago a new "set-up" was made where county units were compelled to pay part of the expense of future welfare, Holland was the first to come forward with her share of $1,000 a month. Miss Deborah Veneklasen, in a lengthy but very understanding communication, pointed out to the council that each unit in the county, townships, villages and cities were asked to pay one-third of the welfare expense, in order to get two-thirds from federal and state sources. The communication pointed out that Holland's share would be $1,250 per month, or $250 more than before.

Mayor Bosch spoke in favor of passing the resolution covering this expenditure, stating that Holland had never been niggardly in giving, nor had it ever been slow. He said:

"This is our burden. At the same time it is our duty to see that there is no distress within the borders of Ottawa county."

He stated that no one begrudged the money if it was properly applied, and safeguarded with an economic law of common sense in the expenditure. When a vote was taken, Alderman Bultman of the Fifth ward was the only alderman to vote against the proposal. However, that undoubtedly was because no limit of time was placed upon the expenditure. Mayor Bosch stated that he did not believe the alderman understood the resolution thoroughly, and had City Clerk Peterson read it over in detail. Mr. Bultman stated that he was not against the expenditure, but there should be a time set when payment should cease. Mayor Bosch stated that the end of relief was far from being over, and there was very little danger of any overlapping. When the vote was again taken it was unanimous.

According to the new "set-up," the county will have to foot a relief bill of $115,000 annually.

The Ottawa county road commission has absorbed considerable of this through road work, approximately some $25,000.

The police commission of Holland at Monday's meeting voted to have Acting Chief Van Ry retained as the chief of police. The council last evening concurred in this action in approving the action of the police board, thus doing away with a very vexing situation that has occupied the minds of both bodies for some time. Mayor Bosch, when the matter came, stated that before this was suggested he had mentioned the matter to John Donnelly of the police commission, stating that he felt that the council would be willing to stand by the appointment of Frank Van Ry as chief, pointing out that his former record as an official and as chief for a score of years had been above the average, and that Mr. Van Ry not only knew the law, but was especially capable, tolerant and kindly to young offenders who came before him and needed guidance rather than chastisement. The mayor brought out several other commendable points relative to Mr. Van Ry's career, and stated that in order to give moral support, there should be a unanimous vote from the common council. When the vote was cast, Alderman Steffens of the Fourth ward was the only one to vote against the approval of Mr. Van Ry. When the mayor asked point blank what the reasons were, Mr. Steffens stated:

"A few years ago we demoted him because he was too old. He must have found the fountain of youth since that time."

This brought a smile to the faces of all present, but the aldermen were convinced that regardless of age Mr. Van Ry was still a splendid chief and added dignity to that office. Finally, Mr. Steffens rather reluctantly voted to make it unanimous.

Mayor Bosch wants to turn the swamp into a "paradise" or a garden spot. He had plenty of praise for everyone, giving credit where credit was due. He pointed out how Mr. Drinkwater of the Second ward had turned a pool of stench into garden spots, and he said that under the right direction, the large swamp could be turned into a very desirable place of beauty, a garden for every needy person in the city. He said that there was no soil so fertile as the swamp affords, and while the gardeners to be, could not break the soil in the beginning, Holland must see to it that proper plowing apparatus be put to work, in order that everyone who needs can, through his own efforts, supply his own wants in the way of winter provisions. The mayor said emphatically that this must not go by default next year. Engineer Zuidema stated that it would be difficult to use horses and plows and mentioned instances where these were mired during last summer and were rescued with much difficulty. He suggested caterpillar plows to do the work. The raising of land in places and the widening of ditches will be the first work on the program.

Some unexpected fireworks came from the audience when Mr. Jacob Weller in a loud voice condemned the aldermen of the Sixth ward for not having certain streets fixed. He said that in the summer they were dust holes and in the winter they were sink holes. He referred especially to Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-first streets at Harrison and Van Raalte avenues. He stated that just now they were veritable lakes and that a few mornings ago when he passed through one of them with his car at a slow rate of speed, a young boy going to school was nearly overwhelmed with muddy water, and that the boy was forced to go home to change his clothes. He

A. I. Bickford asked for a license to sell beer in the Bull's Coffee shop. It is understood that a transfer has been made and the former proprietor had a license. But the state does not permit a transfer of license, so Mr. Bickford of Holland was granted a new license.

The American Legion band has invited the mayor and common council to come to their annual band meeting December 4. The invitation was signed by Harold Karlsen and Raymond Knoobuizen, president and secretary. The band feels that the city has stood by the organization loyally in the way of finance, and the city fathers are entitled to hear the financial report and to participate in the evening's program.

John F. Donnelly made complaint to the aldermen that he had to stand in line an hour and thirty-five minutes to vote on election day and that scores of other voters had to do likewise. He asked that the city consider putting two voting precincts in the Fifth ward and thus eliminate the congestion. Mr. Bosch suggested that the aldermen of the Fifth ward look into this matter, and make a report soon.

Alderman Bultman, who is head of the sidewalk committee, brought in a very interesting report stating that most of the summer there were two gangs of men working on sidewalk repairs and part of the time three gangs. Four hundred pieces of property had been improved through renewed walks. Some were small jobs, in other cases there was considerable repairing and relaying to do. Many street approaches, crossing and alley ways were also renewed and improved. It took 450 barrels of concrete, 386 cubic feet of gravel. The work will be continued next spring.

When this matter of repairing sidewalks came up, Mayor Bosch stated: "Now, many people did not have their sidewalks repaired, and their turn will come next spring. This year the FERA has paid for the labor while the city has paid for the material which is to be assessed to the property later. I wish it understood that those citizens who could not be reached with repairs this fall, must be given that privilege next year, whether they have the FERA or not. It would be unfair to deprive them of this benefit when others have been so favored." The aldermen went on record as being in favor of Mayor Bosch's suggestion.

A Mr. Bos asked for the privilege of dynamiting some stumps in the swamp off College avenue. The aldermen frowned upon this suggestion, for dynamite might do more damage than the stumps were worth. The price of the dynamite would also exceed the value of the stumps. For a moment the aldermen were "stumped," for it was a poor man, but the ordinance reads plain that there be no dynamiting within the city limits. Alderman Drinkwater suggested that the man be given some kindling by the city. He, however, was referred to the welfare department, since relief work should go through on channel.

The city hall will not have a new vestibule at the River street entrance. Alderman Drinkwater, who was on that committee, referred the matter to Alderman De Cock who had plans for a substantial structure costing $600. The vestibule was for the purpose of keeping out the winter cold and thus give comfort and save fuel. Mayor Bosch took a hand in the matter at that time, suggested that $600 was a great deal to spend when needed elsewhere. He said that the city hall had been without a vestibule for 25 years and while it undoubtedly was a fine thing, could wait a few years longer and until the city was in a better position to take care of it. The aldermen did not press the matter and took kindly to the mayor's suggestion. There will be no vestibule.

Alderman Huyser stated that because the city assessor's offices had been remodeled, the rooms should be rewired. The common council concurred in Mr. Huyser's suggestion, and a bid of $21 by White Bros. Electric Co. was accepted.

Alderman Bultman of the sidewalk committee was loud in his praises in behalf of City Engineer Zuidema for his able assistance and suggestions in the sidewalk repairing campaign which started in July, and continued until the first part of this week.

Alderman Kalkman either has a chip on his shoulder or has no sense of humor. Alderman Drinkwater has been doing a great work in the second ward cleaning up, and received the praise not only of the mayor but the other aldermen as well. Among those who gave the second ward alderman untold praise was Mr. Bultman, head of the sidewalk committee. In concluding he laughingly said: "If Art is through in the cleaning near the Pere Marquette tracks in the Fifth ward, and the citizens in the Fifth ward will thank him still further." That got a raise out of Kalkman, who brought in uncalculated personalities that had no place in the discussion. Alderman Kalkman voted thanks to Mr. Drinkwater for his work as suggested by Mr. Bultman, and then became wrathful because of Bultman's personal praise and the Fifth warder's joking remark about coming to the Fifth ward and cleaning up, too. Cornell, you're a good fellow, but you take yourself too seriously. It's easy enough to find fault on every occasion, but a great many misunderstandings can be avoided by first gaining a better understanding of the problems.

Alderman Thompson suggested that every place selling beer

Gil-Boat Co. To Start Within Thirty Days

SUFFICIENT CAPITAL AVAILABLE AND PLANS ARE UNDER WAY

William M. Connelly said late today that Captain M. L. Gilbert states he has sufficient capital from men in Indiana so there will be no delay in the opening of the Gil-Boat Company, now located in the two remaining Ottawa Furniture company buildings.

Mr. Gilbert has remodeled these buildings and they are now in fine shape and at no expense to the city or to the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Connelly states that the equipment has been ordered and will soon be installed and it is expected that by January 1, the new industry will be in full running order. The Gil-Boat Company will make row boats and outboard motor boats and it expects later to build life boats and small tankers, suitable for gasoline, oils and other fluid freight.

Mr. Gilbert is very enthusiastic about his new enterprise and with the upturn of business feels that there are great possibilities for small lake craft in most every line. The Gil-Boat Company is again a departure from the regular lines of manufacturing, a fact which the Holland Chamber of Commerce has had in mind since its reorganization a year and a half ago. It is diversified industries that Holland wants, and judging from the list given in the News last week, the chamber is meeting with a success along these lines that is indeed gratifying.

According to Mr. Connelly, Mr. Gilbert states that when the plant is running from 20 to 25 men will be employed in the beginning.

MISSIONARIES FROM AFRICA
ARRIVE HOME ON FURLOUGH

Just before going to press word was received here that Miss Jennie Stielstra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Stielstra of Lakewood boulevard, and Miss Bertha Sagers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sagers of Muskegon, will arrive in Grand Rapids at 8 p. m. this evening (Thursday). Both the young ladies have been doing missionary work in Africa, being stationed at Lupwe, Northern Nigeria, British West Africa, the station at which Mrs. Edgar Smith, formerly Miss Nelle Breen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Breen of this city, and her husband are working at the present time.

Miss Stielstra and Miss Sagers first went to Africa about two and a half years ago, leaving this country with Miss Johanna Veenstra, pioneer missionary to the Sudan, who passed away a little more than a year ago. Miss Veenstra was working at the Lupwe station at the time of Miss Veenstra's death.

On October 10, just prior to their leaving Africa, for the United States, Miss Stielstra and Miss Sagers witnessed the marriage of Miss Breen to Mr. Edgar H. Smith of London, Miss Stielstra attending Miss Breen as bridesmaid.

Many relatives and friends from Holland and Muskegon motored to Grand Rapids to greet the returning missionaries on their arrival.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

All night long after election day bulletins were received by the Republicans at Lyceum Hall and by the Democrats at their club room. As each dispatch was read, it was hailed with cheers or jeers according to which way the telegram read. Old and young alike were fairly crazed with excitement and it was broad daylight before many sought their homes for needed sleep. Note: Well, your editor was there, well guarded, on the hand of father Leonard Mulder who had been a lifelong Republican and publisher of De Grondwet, then a power in the community. Dispatches came by messenger boy from the C. & W. M. depot. These were received by ticker and taken in longhand by the operator. Not like today by a machine that typewrites the whole story without operators on the receiving end. On this particular election it was not definitely known that Grover Cleveland had beaten James G. Blaine until days afterward.

While the Democratic procession was at a halt at the foot of Eighth st., several bricks and other missiles were thrown into the procession by standers. One of the bricks hit young "Boney" De Vries—who works in the store of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stoketee—on the head, cutting a severe gash in his scalp. Dr. Wm. Van Putten dressed the wound. Note: During these early day campaigns, Republicans and Democrats threw their patronage to men of their respective parties until the campaign scars were again healed. For example, the parents of the young man wounded in this story were Democrats but the store he worked in was Democratic and the doctor quickly secured was a Democrat. But the fellow who threw the brick, we are wondering what he was?

Judge Philip Padgham of the Allegan and Ottawa circuit, enjoys a good story even if it is on himself. Here is one on the judge. The other day Judge Padgham left the Allegan county courthouse for dinner at noon. As he was walking he saw Tom Crocker from his neighborhood, going home in a buggy. Hoping to get a ride to his home, he hailed Tom who immediately allowed the judge to climb aboard. As Padgham was comfortably seated he stared in amazement toward the hitching posts along the courthouse square and there saw his own horse and rig where he had left it when he

OF SUNFISH CLAN

The bluegill is the largest and best of all the sunfishes for angling purposes, reaching a length of 14 inches and frequently a weight of more than a pound and a half.

A favorite of fishermen in lower Michigan, it is one of the gamest of fish and is unsurpassed in table qualities.

It is easily caught since it swims in schools and will take almost any kind of bait. When one bluegill is hooked the angler can almost be certain of taking more.

MICHIGAN HENS FIRST
IN LAYING CONTEST

A pen of white Leghorns owned by E. C. Foreman, Lowell, Mich., set an all-time record for the Michigan Egg Laying Contest at Michigan State College by laying 2,755 eggs during the year. This contest in which 1,000 birds complete draws entries from many states. Awards in the contest are made on a point basis. Each egg counts a point if it is of the proper size and weight. Underweight eggs are given a penalty so it is possible for a hen to lay the greatest number of eggs and still fail to win because some of the eggs were too small. This situation occurred in the contest. First place went to a Barred Rock hen owned by the Parker Poultry Farm, Ann Arbor, Mich. There were several other winners from different parts of the country. Layers from Zeeland and Holland didn't seem to be present.

In October issue of "Personal Efficiency," a magazine published by the LaSalle Extension university of Chicago, appears a story of Mr. Charles D. Karr of Holland. Several weeks ago this magazine had offered $100 for the best story to be used in advertising LaSalle courses. Mr. Karr has received the publishers' usual rate per word with the encouraging statement that the Holland man had a chance to win the prize. The contest was open to more than 50,000 business men and women and it was rather gratifying to know that Mr. Karr's story was the first to be published. The title of Mr. Karr's story was "The Straight Course." It covers 6 columns of the magazine and tells the story of how "Fred," at a beach hotel with his young wife, saw two boats go by, one "The Roamer" and the other "The North Star." The latter easily shot ahead of the former and "Fred" knows that the latter had some time ago had new machinery put into her that had given her new life and the ability to distance her sister ship. This gives him the idea of having new life put into himself which he proceeds to do by taking a LaSalle course. A year later he is again at the beach hotel but now a much more prosperous "Fred." While there, his "boss" comes in and appoints him general sales manager at $7,500—according to the story. The new machinery put into his mental engine room by virtue of the efficiency course has helped him to shoot ahead and give him a real chance in life. Note: Apparently Charles Karr has applied this story to himself and today he is at the head of a fast growing industry, nation-wide and even beyond in its scope of distribution. The Charles Karr Mattress reminds one of ease and comfort. However, the establishment of this going concern was not a "laying down" job. The success of the plant, together with the high ideals of this then young story writer, brought to him more than the $100 for a story. He received from this community the good will, confidence and respect that such accomplishments deserve.

The Holland City State bank is the outgrowth of that bank. The L. P. Husen store was moved to that little bank building which was located on the site of the Jake Fris book store, and later the jewelry store was owned by John Raven, who has been a resident of this city ever since. That's how John Raven became connected up with the clock.

It would seem that something went wrong, for a long period elapsed in going over the files, before the clock was actually in operation. On November 11, 1893, the following can be seen:

"Holland can now boast of a town clock after much vexation delay. Jeweler John Raven has finally succeeded in installing his machinery in the tower of the new bank building where both night and day it is accessible to the eye. The dial is four feet, nine inches, and the cost is $600. The furnishings of the clock is the Seth-Thomas Clock Company of New York City," and let us say that this wonderful clock is still in existence and known the nation over as the makers of fine time pieces. Well, that gives you the clock's history at the time of its inception. However, all during these forty-one years the clock has been a faithful servant, and if you figure minutely what work it has done, you can get some conception of our much-campaigned national debt. The clock has ticked off 1,440 minutes a day, 525,600 minutes a year, 21,549,600 minutes in 41 years, or 1,292,976,000 minutes in that length of time. It is said that our national debt is 18 billion. Well take out your pencil and paper and figure on at the rate a dollar a second, and find out how many more years the old town clock would have to live to tick off the amount of our national debt.

Anyway, encourage the Holland City State bank staff in their efforts to rejuvenate the clock in the steeple, giving it a new forty-one year lease of life.

The Town Clock Now Survives Four Decades

GETTING A LITTLE WEAR IN THE HANDS, BUT STILL FUNCTIONING

Holland City News Files Give
Unique History of Main Street Time Piece.

We all know the song of grandfather's clock that was too tall for the shelf and kept on ticking until the old man died. Well, that isn't the clock we're going to talk about. The clock in question has been running since November 11, 1893, which, by the way, was long before Armistice Day was conceived. Your editor is intimately acquainted with the face of that clock since for 41 years a side glance from his desk in his office has given him the time of day. The old clock has been ever so faithful all these years, just as faithful as Carl Maper has been in Congress. It never misses, only when a sleet storm covers its face, but, of course, Carl hasn't that to contend with.

On November 11, the old clock in the Holland City State bank was 41 years old and then something happened. Some of the gadgets failed to function properly and the hands failed to go round "and stopped still," not to go again until fixed. The bank authorities have been having a man there fussing with the clock, but it is far from satisfactory, but Al Joldema says "we'll find the difficulty soon, and undoubtedly Holland's 'Big Ben' will run 40 years more."

Anyway, nobody "kicks" about the clock when it runs perfectly day in and day out. But when the "old boy" gets tired and goes on a strike, then the "man in the street" hollers. The timepiece has been a great convenience and an unusually fine advertisement. Only when it doesn't go properly the advertising feature loses its value.

But then we were going to tell you about the clock. The building of the Holland City State bank was begun in 1892 as the large engraved stone under the clock indicates. However, it took the greater part of a year to complete this beautiful building. You would think that Holland had no labor troubles, but just at that time besides the bank, Graves hall and Winant's several other buildings besides Holland became Waverly stone buildings, mined from our own quarries and with the surplus building and the importation of several strikes during that year. Anyway, on June 24, 1893, the News says as follows:

"The Holland City State bank moved into its new quarters Tuesday. It goes without saying that the banking office is one of the most elegant at present in the state. Just before the bank's opening on June 30, 1893, the Holland City News gave the following:

"L. P. Husen, the River street jeweler, has charged himself with procuring a 'city clock' for the tower of the new bank at River and Eighth streets, the cost to be about $600. Already he is meeting with good success in soliciting funds. The dial of the clock will be five feet in diameter, and at night the face of the clock will be illuminated by electric light. The clock will be of the best material and manufacture and warranted not to vary ten seconds within a month. We trust Mr. H. will meet with general encouragement at the hands of our citizens since this enterprise is a worthy one."

On July 29 the News gives the following:

"The money for the 'city clock' to be placed in the Holland City State bank block, having all been subscribed, Mr. John Raven informs it will only be a few weeks and the machinery will be running." Editor's note: You noted John Raven in the picture. John was employed, in fact was the manager, and had an interest in the L. P. LINCOLN'S PROCLAMATION

On the next page of this issue there appears together with a fine and dignified picture of Abraham Lincoln, a message from the martyred president, calling for a day of prayer on March 30, 1863. The proclamation is the property of former Mayor E. P. Stephan who kindly loaned the copy to the Holland City News. This publication feels that there should not only be a proclamation of Thanksgiving but one of supplication as well. For that reason this document delivered when the nation was torn with strife is indeed appropriate at a time when prayer and thanksgiving are inseparable.

Sister of Late G. J. Diekema Passes Monday

WAS DAUGHTER OF ONE OF
HOLLAND TOWNSHIP'S
FIRST SUPERVISORS

Word was received at Holland Monday telling of the passing of Mrs. Hendrika TenCate, who died Monday afternoon at labor sanitarium at Benton Harbor. Mrs. TenCate was the daughter of the late Wiepke and Hendrika Diekema, who were pioneer settlers of Holland.

The Diekema home in the early days was located just beyond the city limits, and is still in existence, slightly removed from the spot it once occupied. Your editor remembers the Diekema home in the earlier days as being right across from the Indian burying grounds, the mounds being in among a large clump of pine trees, that being the site of the old Indian village, and many of the mounds were still in evidence when industry obliterated what was left of these grounds. A few of the pine trees are still there.

Mrs. TenCate was the eldest sister of the late Gerrit J. Diekema, who at the time of his death was minister at The Hague. Mrs. TenCate became seriously ill after suffering a stroke of apoplexy early in 1933, and had been confined to her bed since that time. A few months after being stricken she was removed to the Tabor sanitarium, and was confined there until death came Monday.

For the past few years Mrs. TenCate had made her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Dean of Benton Harbor. Before that time she was a resident of Holland and she had many intimate friends and relatives living here. For many years she was a devout member of Third Reformed church of this city and took a deep interest in the Women's Adult Bible class, the Women's Missionary society and the Ladies' Aid society. While at Benton Harbor she was identified with the Congregational church and was connected with the Women's Bible class of that church. She also made many friends and was much beloved by her associates in that city.

Mrs. TenCate was born in Holland in the early settlement days on March 25, 1854, and was 80 years old on her last birthday which was fittingly celebrated by her and her children. It was her privilege to see the beginning, the development and the continued growth of Holland. At one time the Diekema homestead was at least a half mile beyond the city limits. Today the Diekema addition, later developed, is part of Holland, and now the city is extended far beyond her former borders where in the earlier days only a few scattering farm houses stood, the Diekema homestead being one of them.

Mrs. TenCate is survived by a daughter, Mrs. O. W. Dean of Benton Harbor; two sisters, Mrs. Martha D. Kollen and Mrs. Winnie C. Lokker; and a brother, Albert Diekema, all of this city; and three grandchildren, Myra TenCate and Vernon D. TenCate of this city, and Mildred A. Dean of Benton Harbor.

The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the home of the son, Mr. Daniel TenCate, Maple Avenue and Fourteenth street, Dr. E. J. Blekkink, her former pastor of Third Reformed church, officiating. Interment took place in the Diekema plot in Pilgrim home cemetery.

The many beautiful floral tributes were indicative of the esteem in which Mrs. TenCate was held in both Holland and Benton Harbor.

Thanksgiving Day and a Day Of Prayer

The Holland City News is in possession of a proclamation issued by Abraham Lincoln on March 30, 1863. The document was loaned to the News by former Mayor E. P. Stephan, at whose suggestion this wonderful message is reprinted.

This nation, we feel, has passed and is still passing through a most stressful period, but in spite of the present-day we still have a great many blessings that our forebears never dreamed of. Our fields produce an over abundance. We have everything to work with and to do with. We have all the conveniences that science, art and inventive genius could conceive. Medical skill has safeguarded our health, has conserved the human race through epidemic.

Compare our lot with that of our forebears. Yes, we may bring this right to our very door. When Dr. Van Raalte and his little band came to Holland in 1847, they stepped into an unbroken forest, miles removed from communication with the outside world, from food supplies, and even from medical aid. Days removed from sustenance, and where Indian paths, not railroads and automobiles, were the only possible avenues to help or sustenance. There was no "welfare" to turn to in this bog-filled wilderness where poverty and pestilence stalked hand in hand. Those intrepid pioneers also had a Thanksgiving, but combined with this day of thankfulness they had a day of supplication, when they asked that the sustaining hand of God continue to help them and guide them further in the tremendous task of building a city. The fruits of their labors—their faith—their courage—you now enjoy.

A call for a National Day of Prayer has been demanded throughout the land by Christian men and women. Tentatively this will be next Sunday and it is well that it should be. However, we feel that the day of Thanksgiving should also be a day of supplication and there has been no time in recent history when this fact has been brought home to us so forcefully—when prayer should be sent up to Almighty God from a Christian nation in deep repentance. It is well and good to be thankful for the many blessings that we have received—and let us say, there are still many. But we must not lose sight of the fact that we owe the Giver of these many blessings more than that, for we feel that among a Christian people true thankfulness cannot be extolled until true repentance permeates the hearts and minds of men.

It is, therefore, most appropriate to publish at this time a proclamation from President Lincoln written when the country was torn with internal strife, a period that nearly meant the destruction of a once united nation. The proclamation is almost a prayer rather than a mandate. Every word denotes humbleness and a plea for a nation's forgiveness. Today the North and the South are again united in the bonds of love and friendship and national loyalty—thanks to this humble God-fearing patriot whom the people of this nation trusted and followed as their national leader.

The Holland City News, therefore, reprints this proclamation of Abraham Lincoln as its suggestion for a message of prayer as well as of Thanksgiving.

"Remove Not The Old Landmark"

Proverbs 23:10

On March 30, 1863, the righteous Abraham Lincoln issued the following Proclamation calling for a DAY OF PRAYER. It is a sample of the kind of sentiment and sincerity that has given moral strength and character to the United States in the past. Let patriots refresh their memories and contemplate what a rich spiritual heritage they have, as they read:

Whereas the Senate of the United States, devoutly recognizing the Supreme Authority and Just Government of Almighty God in all the affairs of men and nations, has by a resolution requested the President to designate and set apart a day for National Prayer and Humiliation; and

Whereas, it is the duty of nations as well as of men to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God, to confess their SINS and TRANSGRESSIONS in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine REPENTANCE will lead to mercy and pardon, and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in the Holy Scriptures and proved by all history, that those nations only are blessed whose God is the Lord;

And, inasmuch as we know that by His Divine Law nations, like individuals, are subjected to punishments and chastisements in this world, we do not justly fear that the awful calamity of civil war which now desolates the land may be but a punishment inflicted upon us for our presumptuous sins, to the needful end of our NATIONAL REFORMATION as a whole people? We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of Heaven; we have been preserved the many years in Peace and Prosperity; we have grown in numbers, wealth and power as no other nation HAS EVER GROWN. But we have FORGOTTEN GOD. We have forgotten the gracious Hand which preserved us in Peace and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us, and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom of OUR OWN. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to PRAY TO THE GOD THAT MADE US.

It behooves us, then, to HUMBLE ourselves before the offended Power, to confess our NATIONAL SINS, and to PRAY for clemency and forgiveness.

Now, therefore, in compliance with the request, and fully concurring in the views of the Senate, I do by this, my proclamation, designate and set apart Thursday, the 30th day of April, 1863, as a day of National Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer. And I do hereby request all the people to abstain on that day from their ordinary secular pursuits, and to unite at their several places of public worship and their respective homes in keeping the day holy to the Lord and devoted to the humble discharge of the religious duties proper to that solemn occasion.

All this being done in sincerity and truth, let us then rest humbly in the hope authorized by the Divine Teachings that the united cry of the nation will be heard on high and answered with blessings no less than the pardon of our National Sins and the Restoration of our now divided and suffering country to its former happy condition of unity and peace.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and cause the Seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 30th Day of March, A.D. 1863, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-seventh.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

TURKEY PARTY TUESDAY

Next Tuesday evening, November 27, at 8 p. m., the Holland Elks lodge are holding their annual Thanksgiving turkey party at their lodge rooms, 208 Central avenue. The proceeds of this party will be used to help defray the expenses of the usual "Kiddie" Christmas party. A free turkey lunch and a high-class entertainment has been planned for your amusement. Come and bring a friend. You will have a jolly time.

FEATHER PARTY

Next week, Monday evening, a "feather party" will be staged under the auspices of Veterans of Foreign Wars at their club room in Labor hall over the Uwi restaurant on River avenue, between Eighth and seventh streets. It will be an interesting evening and not a few of the guests will go home with turkeys or chickens for Thanksgiving. Not alone will there be good music but plenty of refreshments and a "good time" will be had by all.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have staged some very fine entertainments, but this feather party is destined to be a wow!

ST. FRANCIS DE SALES TO GIVE FEATHER PARTY

The annual feather party, a pre-Thanksgiving activity, will be given in the large hall of St. Francis school by a committee of the St. Francis church. This is a public affair and will be very interesting and entertaining.

This being "turkey time" the gobs will be very much in evidence, and undoubtedly many will find their way to the tables of the guests of the evening.

A very suitable program will be given in connection with this feather party. It has been a regular event by St. Francis for a number of years and always proves to be a good drawing card. The party will be held on Monday evening.

BREWERS PAY MILLIONS

Millions of dollars were paid this year by Michigan brewers to the national government. Figures just released show the growth of the brewing business in Michigan since the legalization of beer and also show the seasonal fluctuations. MACHINE WRAPS CARTONS OF EGGS IN WAXED PAPER

A bread-wrapping machine now is used by a company in California to wrap cartons of eggs in waxed paper. The paper is sealed by heat to make it resistant to moisture and air. Canning tests show that these wrapped eggs keep better than unwrapped eggs.

PLAY TO BE PRESENTED AT TRINITY CHURCH

For the past several weeks a group of young folks at Trinity church has been putting in a great deal of their time practicing the play "The Call of the Night Rider," under the direction of Peter Venstra, and judging from the last rehearsal, each one has his or her part "down to a tee" and all is in readiness for presentation of this drama to the public.

The play, a story of the days of William Tyndale in the time of the Reformation, will be given on Thursday (Thanksgiving day evening), and Friday of next week, Henry Engelsman taking the part of Tyndale. Other leading characters are to be portrayed by Harvey Hoffman, Corrine Baker, Adriana Steketes, Peter Bol, Howard Tussink, Harold Hoffman, Vera Damstra and Peter Venstra.

The program on each evening will begin at 7:45 o'clock. A silver offering will be taken.

ZEELAND MAN'S DISMISSAL APPROVED BY STATE

Discharge of John H. De Pree of Zeeland, county director of works division of FERA, was approved by F. M. McBroom, chief assistant to Dr. William Haber, state administrator, in a wire to Miss Deborah Veneklasen, county welfare administrator. Miss Veneklasen dismissed De Pree from office on Monday after asking for his resignation Saturday.

De Pree, who has been in direct charge of CWA and works division in the county office, had remained at work at his desk, having asked state officials for a chance to state his case.

It is assured by the state that the vacancy caused by the resignation of Marvin Lindeman of Holland several months ago will be filled so that the Ottawa county commission can function properly. Miss Veneklasen dismissed John De Pree from the county set-up last Saturday. He with Miss Veneklasen, and James Van Valkenburg, Zeeland, the auditor, had been named a committee by the commission to investigate administrative costs in this county. This meeting was held in Holland a few days ago and the request was made through resolution.

Miss Veneklasen declined to state the reasons for her dismissal of the officer, saying that since the county commission has been minus one member she has acted solely upon the orders of the state department.

Change in Hog Process Tax

A redefinition of the term, "first domestic processing" of hogs, which will transfer to commercial handlers all liability for payment of the processing tax with respect to hog products derived from hogs slaughtered by producers and feeders and for which the producers and feeders were liable heretofore, became effective on November 1 in all parts of the United States. As a result of the redefinition, the farmers are liable for the processing tax only with respect to hog products sold direct to consumers in excess of the exemptions allowed under the tax regulations. No tax is required to be paid by the producer who slaughtered his own hogs and who sells to or exchanges directly with consumers, not more than 300 pounds of the products derived therefrom during any marketing year. If he sells not more than 1,000 pounds directly to consumers he is liable for the tax only on the volume sold in excess of the exemption of 300 pounds. If the producer sells more than 1,000 pounds of the products derived from his hogs, during any marketing year, he loses this exemption and is liable for the tax on all hogs slaughtered, of which the products were sold direct to consumers. In determining the amount of the tax the weight of the products sold are restored to a live-weight basis according to conversion factors prescribed in processing tax regulations. The exemptions do not apply to farmers who slaughtered hogs not of his own raising and who sell the products thereof. A modification of the hog processing tax regulations which will limit exemption of the tax on condemned parts to those condemnations which are the result of pathological changes as determined by post-mortem inspection was also announced. This modification will enable the Bureau of Internal Revenue to make a satisfactory check on the kind of product condemned and the weight of such product. The conversion factor which will be applied hereafter to condemned parts in order to restore to a live-weight basis will be the conversion factor prescribed for such part in the tables of conversion factors contained in the hog processing tax regulations instead of the conversion factor of 132 per cent which has been used for all parts heretofore.

PAINTING SMILES ON SAD FACES

Mel Trotter, superintendent of City Missions of Grand Rapids and Holland, sends out a letter to his friends which might appeal to you. Someone has said: "The greatest art in the world is the painting of smiles on the faces of little children."

Would you like to go out with me into the darker places of our city and paint smiles on the sad faces of little children and worried anxious faces of mothers and fathers?

Here's how we can do it: Our Thanksgiving dinner for children is the paint brush that will paint smiles and courage and new hope in the faces of these folk. If you could see the happy smile of just one child at this dinner you would be repaid a million times for your contribution.

Will you help in the joyous job of painting smiles by sending your check or donation to George Trotter, to give boys and girls a chicken dinner Thanksgiving Day at 5 o'clock at the City mission, Central avenue.

Great interest is being manifested in this feed or treat. No need for any child to be left out if parents will call at the mission and secure tickets for them, free, of course.

Don't miss having a part in it.

REFORMED CHURCH SYNOD WILL NOT MEET NEXT YEAR

By almost unanimous vote of the classes in the Reformed Church in America it has been decided to hold no meeting of the General Synod in 1935, according to an announcement of the stated clerk, Rev. John A. Ingham of New York City.

The General Synod at its last meeting in Grand Rapids in June, 1934, recommended to the 40 classes that the delegates appointed for the session of 1935 should be instructed not to attend, thus saving the expense of the usual meeting, for the sake of economy. Reports now have been received from 39 classes. Thirty-seven favor this action; one (Hudson) opposes it; one (Holland) has deferred action until next spring. The plan is thus approved.

The procedure will be in accordance with the precedent of 1933. The General Synod had met regularly every June from 1814 to 1932, inclusive, an unbroken succession of 119 years. In 1933, by mutual agreement, delegates did not attend, and officers of the synod met at the appointed place and adjourned for one year, for lack of a quorum.

$25,000 ASKED FOR FERRIS WHEEL DEATH

Suit for $25,000 was brought today by Thomas Karasi, acting administrator of the estate of Harvey Schamper, 20, of this city against the Rubin and Cherry exposition, Inc., and the Ionia Free Fair association. Schamper died Sept. 23 from injuries received in a fall from a ferris wheel at the fair last August.

The contention of the plaintiff that the fall was due to a faulty seat bar in the passenger carriage is sustained by a verdict returned last month here by a coroner's jury.

The appointment of the new alderman at that date is necessary because of a residence technicality. Game Management Restores Quail After 17 Years

After seventeen years of closed season on Bobwhite quail, enabled Iowa to open the season on these gamesters in limited areas this year, with extension next year. Sportsmen are pointing with pride to the effectiveness of practicing game management on the land. A short experimental open season was had last fall on fourteen areas comprising 24,252 acres. With the progress being made in game management application it is expected that the open season on Bobwhite can be extended to include the entire state within a few years, restoring the quail and the sport denied for so many years. Without the practice of game management, quail were at the vanishing point, conservationists declare. The first game management practices to restore Iowa quail were started in 1932. The next year the experimental hunts were held. 541 hunters in a total shooting period of 98 days flushed 799 coveys of Bobwhite, comprising 11,145 birds. The total bag, including quail lost, was approximately 1,789 birds. This is less than 15 per cent of the quail population known to occupy these areas. The take could have been doubled without danger to the parent stock, research workers declare. Subsequently study of these areas indicates that perhaps 30 per cent of the population is about the natural loss each year in the early part of the winter. Michigan is still closed to quail hunting; however, there is quite an abundance of them after all these years of closed season.

RED CROSS RELIEF GIVEN TO VICTIMS IN 103 DISASTERS

Tornadoes, Fires, Hurricanes, Floods, Epidemics, Make Record of Year

A history of the disasters in the United States in any year is written annually by the American Red Cross, according to Chairman John Barton Payne, commenting on the report for the year ending June 30, 1934, which has just been issued in Washington. "Because of the charter provision which places upon the Red Cross the responsibility for disaster relief, our chapter and staff workers are notified of all calamities of storm and fire and flood," he continued. "The emergency period may prove to be brief, in cases where the victims have their own resources to draw on. While it lasts, however, whether it brings the immediate need of food, clothing and shelter for the homeless, or entails a program of investigation and rehabilitation, the Red Cross is the official director of all relief."

A great variation in type, and a wide geographical distribution, characterize the 103 disasters reported last year. Tornadoes, hurricanes, hailstorms and other storms made up almost one half of the total. Especially numerous were the tropical storms which swept in from the sea to the Atlantic and Gulf Coast region. There were 21 storms of this type, establishing a new record for frequency. Next in number to storms were disasters of fire, the report shows. Red Cross aid was given following 25 fires in the United States and in insular possessions. The most spectacular was the Chicago stockyards fire, where Red Cross workers arrived shortly after the fire started, administering relief until the emergency period passed, giving first aid to about 1,000 persons. Floods caused serious damage in some sections, 17 calling for Red Cross relief. Three epidemics of malaria and typhoid fever. A school bus wreck was one of the year's tragedies for which Red Cross funds were needed for relief and rehabilitation. "Technique acquired by the Red Cross in these disasters and the hundreds of others we have handled is at the service of the public," Chairman Payne said. "To make this possible the disaster relief service has issued a manual containing instructions for chapters interested in advance preparations for emergencies. Disaster Institutes were held last year in 25 strategic locations, to enable Red Cross and civic workers to formulate plans for possible disaster emergencies in their communities. Support of the disaster relief activities of the Red Cross comes from the annual roll call held each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

Trained to Save Lives

First aid certificates were issued by the Red Cross last year to 130,972 persons who finished the course of instruction put on by the chapters. Included in this list were more than 70,000 foremen, time clerks and other key employees on Federal Civil Works projects. Further evidence of the government's endorsement of the first aid program is found in projects now under way where Red Cross chapters, at the request of the War Department, are giving first aid instruction in CCC camps. Where it has been requested by Army engineers the same instruction is also made available to key men working on federal water conservancy and flood control projects.

War Veterans' Problems Increase

Last year American Red Cross chapters dealt with the problems of nearly 400,000 veterans and their families. The workers find that as the years go on their responsibility increases rather than decreases. Changes in legislation, the increasing age of veterans and the consequent increase in physical ills, bring new needs for sympathetic treatment by trained Red Cross workers. In addition to this service to veterans the Red Cross served as the official medium between the people and the men in military and naval service, giving aid through this service last year to 6,379 men in the army, navy and marine corps.

Busy Year for Volunteers

Red Cross volunteers made nearly five million garments last year; they prepared 342,366 pages of hand-transcribed braille and 314,718 of the duplicated process; 16,133 Christmas bags, 3,678,831 surgical dressings and 18,475 jetties were prepared, and many other valuable community services were reported by chapter volunteers.

RED CROSS AGENCIES SAFEGUARD HEALTH

First Aid, Life Saving, Nursing Care, Promote Health and Safety

Five outstanding services make up the health-conservation program of the American Red Cross, according to the annual report just issued in Washington. These services are first aid and life saving, which together have trained more than a million persons; nursing, with an active enrollment of 36,133 registered nurses; Public Health Nursing, conducted by 7500 nurses in 424 chapters last year; and Home Hygiene, which has taught more than 700,000 men and women simple ways of caring for the sick at home.

"The achievements of the Red Cross in public health nursing place it among the leaders in this field," said James L. Fleiser, vice chairman in charge of domestic operations. "This service was organized in 1919. This service was developed by the World War and the ravages of the flu epidemic which in 1918-1919 took so great a toll of life. "Since that time Red Cross nursing services have been pioneers in more than one half of the counties in the United States. Many services we established were taken over later by civic, state and federal agencies, and the Red Cross continues to establish services in other new fields. Red Cross nurses made more than a million visits to patients last year, and 629,025 children in schools were inspected.

Red Cross courses in home hygiene and care of the sick are especially important in times of depression, because they teach families to maintain hygienic conditions in their homes and to recognize symptoms of illness early enough to prevent serious consequences. "Our courses in first aid have been instrumental in saving lives of the injured; in safeguarding the accident victim until the physician arrives, and in reducing time lost by workers in factories, mines and other industries. We are also giving the course extensively to police and fire departments throughout the country, and to state highway patrols. Everyone is invited to join the Red Cross during the annual membership roll call which continues from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, to have a part in the health program and the other humanitarian services of the Red Cross.

Fires on Morro Castle and At Nome Alaska, Received Help of Red Cross Workers

A number of tragic and unusual disasters have recently called for Red Cross relief. Included in them have been a flood in Kentucky, following a series of cloudbursts in August; epidemics of disease which threatened several sections, including some caused by drought conditions. Red Cross workers found much to do for the survivors of the Morro Castle fire and for those engaged in rescue work; and Red Cross relief went by airplane to Alaska when the famous old gold camp, Nome, burned in September.

An Army of Goodwill

When members of the Junior Red Cross learned that school-books had been destroyed in the Kentucky floods last August they gave $100 from the National Children's Fund to buy new textbooks for use in the schools. The maximum membership for the Junior Red Cross last year was 7,350,250, an increase over the previous year of more than 250,000. They carry on civic and service programs in their own communities which each year bring comfort and pleasure to thousands of needy and unfortunate people. An international friendship is built up through correspondence with Junior Red Cross members in foreign countries.

Good Conservation Man

As time goes on the wisdom of the selection of P. J. Hoffmaster as state director of conservation will become more and more apparent. He is thoroughly trained for the job, knows conservation problems and no doubt will keep Michigan in the forefront of states well and favorably known for their progressiveness. Hoffmaster has one of the most difficult state positions to fill. It calls for the hand of a diplomat and one who knows when to say "No" and mean it. The department is constantly besieged by groups and individuals with selfish aims the realization of which have no place in the state-wide conservation activities of the state. To keep these cliques from going absolutely berserk calls for tact and Hoffmaster can supply this.

Smallest Since 1881

Supplies of feed grains for the 1934-35 winter season are the smallest since 1881, the bureau of agricultural economics reported today. This marked reduction was due primarily to the drought, which reduced yields, although 1934 acreage of feed grains was reduced 9 per cent under 1933 and was 10 per cent under the 1927-1931 average. The 1934 hay crop was the smallest in 16 years.

Prospective 1934-35 supplies of high protein feeds from domestic processing may be 90 per cent of 1933-34 and only 70 per cent of average, but almost the same quantity of wheat byproduct feeds appear available as last winter. Let's plough a few more acres under.

COMMON COUNCIL

stated that he was disgusted this past summer when he saw several men cutting grass with a scythe where there was no grass, and the instruments were so dull that to cut grass and weeds with them would be impossible. Mr. Weller said:

"Why not put the money into street improvements?"

Alderman Huizer verified the grass cutters.

Both Aldermen Van Lente and Thompson of the Sixth ward pointed out that they had repeatedly told the common council of the impassable condition of these streets at certain periods of the year, but there never were sufficient funds to make the necessary improvements. Mayor Bosch suggested that some effort be made to get some relief on those bad streets. He stated that no provision was made in the budget for a great many things and that there was no funds for street improvements at this time, but in the future the budgets would be made out early enough and lay over long enough so that the public would know how and where the money was being expended. He stated that wanting things and kicking afterward had to cease, and if the public got the facts for expenditures they could suggest or object as the case might be. He said: "This is a period of economy and expenditures were cut to the bone but in the case of streets he felt that it might not have been wise economy to eliminate necessary improvements."

When he stated that these streets in the Sixth ward ought to be fixed up, nearly every alderman jumped up and suggested some street fixing in their respective wards. The spontaneity of these requests brought a smile from nearly everyone. However, the aldermen are going to study the matter, and are going to have ways and means ready by next spring to take care of these very much needed street improvements.

SUCKERS FALL BEFORE STONES OF FISHERMEN

From Marion comes a story which proves that man, if need be, can resort to the tactics common in the stone age and make his kill with a degree of skill that would make the old cave dwellers green with envy.

Anson Williams tells how he took his father-in-law over to the Middle Branch where he expected to leave him to enjoy a day of worm-dunking. While helping his father-in-law to get rigged, Anson saw three black suckers swimming near shore in close formation. Not having any tackle of his own with him, Anson picked up a huge rock and let go. His aim was perfect and his score was three black suckers, the largest of which weighed over 4 pounds and measured 24 inches in length.

Be that as it may, we don't care to be in front of Mrs. Williams' little son, Anson, when he starts throwing stones.

Honey Bees Build In Walls of Home

(Muskegon Chronicle)

A flour sack of honey bees with their queen were found behind the siding under the sun room at the residence of Jacob Lund, 733 Sanford St., in Muskegon Heights. Earlier in the spring the Lund family had noticed that an unusual number of bees were infesting their home. They tried everything they could to get rid of them, killing thousands. But there were still more and more bees making their life miserable.

Things finally came to the point where they were afraid to go out the front door because of the bees. Finally a friend of theirs introduced them to a bee keeper, who promised to rid them of their troubles.

Last Saturday afternoon amidst the cheers of dozen of spectators who gathered around to watch the fun, the two men ripped off the front of the house to find the wall space full of bees, combs and honey. It took all afternoon to persuade the bees their new home was a hive the Lunds had provided for that purpose. When the queen bee was finally caught and placed in the hive, things were much better. Unfortunately Mr. Lund didn't have the necessary bee-catching outfit on and was badly stung on his arms. The men had thoughtfully covered their faces with cheese cloth.

Mrs. Lund had her troubles afterward cleaning up the wax and honey which was tracked over her house and yard. There was only three pints of strained honey left after the children of the neighborhood had dipped their hands into the combs.

The Lunds were more than pleased to get rid of the bees and the bee keeper reports that the bees are doing well in their new residence.

Mosquito Bite and Gun Cost Foot

E. R. Smith of Dallas, Texas, felt the sting of a mosquito on his foot as he rode in his automobile. He grabbed an automatic shotgun and started scratching the bite with the muzzle. A forgotten cartridge discharged and shattered his foot.

KROGER STORE MANAGERS AND STAFF HOLD MEET

At least 40 of the Holland and Zeeland Kroger Grocery and Baking Company managers and staffs gathered at Keefer's cafe for a joint business and social gathering. Mr. Homer Wilson, district manager, was in charge of the evening's program.

Besides a special spread there were several fine musical numbers contributed by Mr. Yanden Brink some business features and a real enjoyable time. C. B. Fries of the advertising department at Grand Rapids was also present for a short talk.

A key man's banquet was also held at Hotel Pantlind in the Swiss room, attended by 41 members of the organization. William E. Burke, sales manager, was the toastmaster of the evening, and after the dinner a very interesting program of entertainment was a feature. There was competition for the so-called president's cup, an annual event in which twenty-two branch stores are competing.

KROGER MANAGERS' WEEK

Business goes on..

What this country needs is a little less of reformers. Ever since it started, someone has always been trying to save it from dangers that didn't exist. Since the invention of the steam engine, labor has tottered on the brink of Technocracy. OPPORTUNITY was something that had existed only in the past. The poor have always been downtrodden. Retailers have always been overstocked and without profit. A tidal wave of debt has always threatened to engulf us. It has always been easier to get into debt than out. It is just as much fun to be lazy AS IT EVER WAS.

Nothing is going to happen to the United States of America if we maintain our sense of equilibrium. We have always been never contented, but reasonably happy. People got married and had babies, got hired and fired about as now. A few managed to accumulate wealth which the next generation squandered—look about you!

We are going into a marvelous future. Every generation has enjoyed a more marvelous future than their parents. Our fathers—when boys—didn't have electricity, automobiles, concrete roads, bathrooms, automatic refrigeration, airplanes, radio, telephones, oil furnaces, air conditioning, etc. and etc. BUT we must keep level heads—oppose radical reform—be conservative, and remember we are all the same kind of people working toward the same end.

Girl Regaining Consciousness: Weeks a Blank

MISS START, INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT, RECOGNIZES HER FATHER AND SPEAKS

Consciousness is slowly returning to Miss Bernice Start, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Start, Spring Lake, who has been unconscious since she was struck by a passing automobile on U.S. 16 between Spring Lake and Ferrysburg on October 27.

Saturday night she showed the greatest improvement and recognized her father. She has only spoken the words "yes" and "no" but apparently has all her faculties. She lapses into unconsciousness most of the day or a deep sleep.

The first word she spoke was "yes" when she was asked if her father was there, as he was standing beside her bed. She responded "no" when asked if her mother was there. She also recognizes her brother in the same way.

She is able to eat solid foods and apparently relishes them. She can move freely, can hear, taste, feel and see. Apparently to hospital authorities a blood clot at the base of the brain is absorbing and it is doubtful if there is a skull fracture.

The young lady has had a day and night nurse since she was injured and it is believed now that she will recover and probably will have no serious effects from the injury. The case of unconsciousness is the longest ever recorded at the local hospital.

Deer Causes Grouse's Death

Clyde Rudey, member of a party of Ypsilanti and Adrian hunters who sought grouse in the Long Lake district, north of Harrison, during the recent season, had the unusual experience of shooting a grouse with the aid of a large buck. The deer, frightened from its resting place by another member of the party, dashed directly toward Rudey, flushing the grouse as it ran through the woods. The grouse flew past Rudey, who shot the bird, then stood and watched the buck continue its mad flight through the scrub oaks and jack pines.

Plays Violin Made in Napoleonic War

Fritz Kreisler, the famous violinist who is coming to Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium for a recital on November 26, in a recent interview lamented the fact that most composers today work with one eye on the score and the other on the box office.

"Unlike the great masters of former years," he said, "the great majority of present day composers are not content to live in an attic and commune with the muses. They want big motor cars and other forms of luxury. Great art is achieved only when done for art's sake." Strauss he named as the outstanding composer of today and Charles Martin Loeffler as the leading American composer.

On his present tour Kreisler is playing his 1711 Stradivarius, one of five prized instruments. This violin was stolen in Spain by an English sailor during the Napoleonic wars. He sold it to the keeper of a public house in England. The saloon keeper played it a little while and eventually sold it to a musician. It has since changed hands several times.

Kreisler confides that he has frequently received requests to play "Pop Goes the Weasel." "But," he added with a smile, "I have never played it. An excellent piece, to be sure, but I do not feel it quite fits in with my programs."

Tickets for the Kreisler concert are on sale at the Civic Auditorium (9-6266) or reservations may be made through East Congregational church (5-1117), under whose auspices the concert course is sponsored. Tickets are priced at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00.

GRAND HAVEN'S LEGION GIVES FLAG TO HALL

A beautiful flag mounted on a pole was presented to Grand Haven Monday night by the Charles A. Conklin post, American Legion, at the first formal meeting of the city council held in the new city hall.

C. F. Bolt, chaplain of the post, headed the line of about 25 Legionnaires who marched in a body from the hallway down to the council rostrum. Mr. Bolt, in the name of the local post, presented the flag to the city with a few words asking the council to accept the gift for the benefit of the generations, a slight addition to the magnificent new city hall, representative forever of the land of the free and the home of the brave. The Legionnaires separated on side of the hall and gave the salute at the conclusion of Mr. Bolt's speech and then filed out of the room.

FARM PROCESSING CHANGED

Information has been received by L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, from John Pulte, deputy collector of internal revenue department, that a change in processing regulations effective November 1, 1934, has occurred. The new regulations are in course of preparation and will shortly be available for distribution.

The effect of the revision appears to be to relieve the producer or feeder of liability to tax upon the slaughtering of hogs when such in dressed hogs are sold to meat distributing trade, restaurant, club, hospital or similar consumer. In other words it appears that the farmer is to be relieved of making returns when the dressed meat is sold to distributing trade (meat dealer, grocery, etc.), restaurant, club, hospital or similar consumer. The trade now becomes responsible for payment of tax.

The county agricultural agent's office is awaiting the official regulations. Nothing in the above is to be construed as official. Mr. Arnold advises that anyone who wishes definite information to get in touch with John Pulte, deputy collector, Grand Rapids, Mich.

ALLEGAN COUNTY

The first concrete evidence of the state highway department's intentions to start on the improvement of M-40 between Holland and Allegan was revealed today. The state department has advertised that bids for a reinforced concrete bridge across Rabbit river at Hamilton will be taken on November 23 in Lansing. The job must be completed by June 20, 1935. Specifications call for a bridge 150 feet long consisting of three spans, two spans of 45 feet each centered by one of 60 feet. The bridge is to have a roadway width of 42 feet with two five-foot sidewalks in addition. Plans also call for a temporary bridge to be used while the new one is under construction. Fishing Fleet Returns to Grand Haven

MANY TUGS WILL RETURN TO THAT PORT TO RESUME OPERATIONS

(Grand Haven Tribune)
The Grand Haven fishing fleet will soon be brought back to its old time strength. Several boats that have been out of commission and several others that have been fishing in other sections of the lake will be put into commission and return to this port, it is reported.

The Neptune has just been completely overhauled and rebuilt by Ray Van Hall and Lawrence Van Hall and Henry Cook will complete the crew. The boat was formerly owned by Abel Abbinga, who sold it to a firm at White Lake. It was rebuilt here by Edward Welch and Jacob Beukema. The gas boat "Arlene," which the Van Halls have been running this summer, will be laid up and the new boat will fish during the winter season for chub and other fish as the seasons open.

Caleb Ver Duin, who has been away from this port for the past 14 months, will return with the Mary G. and the Harry H. Steel and Reindeer, two boats owned by the Hill Fishing company, will come in here to fish during the season.

Martin O'Beck, who has been fishing near Cheboygan for some time, will be back with the Johanna.

The trout season and whitefish season will be opened shortly. The chub fishing of this port is reported to be good now.

The several gas boats which have been active during the season will be laid up for the winter season approaching and the larger, heavier steam tugs will be employed.

It is reported that the recent storms have done considerable damage to the deep trap nets which have been set off this port for the past several months.

Zeeland Public School has again been privileged to have the honor that one of its pupils was the winner of a state scientific temperance instruction essay prize. On last Friday afternoon at the program in the junior high department, this prize, in the form of a beautiful gold medal, was presented by Mrs. Blanche Hall, of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union, to Gradus Shoemaker, an eighth grade junior high pupil. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Corey Shoemaker of R. R. 3, Zeeland.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ver Hage, Vriesland, a son, Sunday; to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brink, Franklin St., a son; to Mr. and Mrs. John A. Vanden Bosch, North Centennial St., a son.

The Zeeland public schools for the third year will offer a course in agriculture beginning Dec. 3. The classes will be under the direction of Otto Pino, local agricultural teacher, and will be open only to farmers between the ages of 14 and 25. The course will deal with farming and special products adapted to this section of the state.

Mrs. Ed Dykema was most pleasantly surprised at her home on West Central Ave., Zeeland, when her children and grandchildren took possession of her home to help celebrate her birthday anniversary. Those present beside the guest of honor were Mr. Ed Dykema, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dykema, Earl and Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dykema, Mr. and Mrs. D. Gebben, Vernon Dale and Nelson Dykema. Delicious refreshments and a fine social time were enjoyed by all.

FRESHMAN TRIAL IS NOVEMBER 26

The day of judgment is approaching—all but little freshmen better beware! But seriously, the annual freshman trial is to be held on Monday evening, November 26, in Carnegie hall, according to Dove Cuperly, who is in charge of the affair.

Kenneth Karsten will preside as judge and Murray K. Rogers will serve as clerk. Joe Esther, Catherine Haig, Marc Brouwer and Don Albers will act as prosecutors. Foremen of the juries will be Earl Goozen and Tony Mistrretta.

The following have been accused of violating the freshmen rules which were announced by Henry Kuizenga, president of the student council, at the all-college "mixer" on September 28, and are to be tried: Don Meengs, Jack Leenhouts, John Hyms, Laura Berg-horst, Henrietta Bast.

Hope College News

The second annual short story contest for college students, sponsored by the magazine, Story, has just been announced. A first prize of $100 and a second of $50 will be awarded for the best stories submitted. The contest is open to all registered college and university students in the United States, but selection by qualified judges at the various institutions will limit the entries to two from each campus. Entries must be in the hands of the editors of Story by April 1, 1935. The winning stories will be published, and others of unusual merit which still are not prize winners will be considered for possible publication.

The men's debate squad meets in Professor Deckard Ritter's room each Wednesday at 2 o'clock, to discuss the new material collected about the armament question. Last Wednesday reviews were given from various articles and books, and the extempore tryouts were held.

The 26 debating men have been divided into dual groups. These groups are anticipating trial speeches at their next meeting. From this exhibition of talent a debating team will be chosen which will demonstrate before the opening meeting of the Pi Kappi Delta the first part of next month.

On Wednesday, November 7, a trial debate was given. Those on the negative were David De Witt and Marc Brouwer; on the affirmative, Homer Lokker and Herman Lubbers. This debate was valuable in that it showed the main issues regarding the "government monopoly of armament and munitions" question.

The time of meeting was changed from Thursday afternoon to Wednesday afternoon to facilitate the attendance of a larger number of the group. Plans were discussed for a meeting the next Wednesday. The members thought it would be advisable to wait until more material on the question had been collected and organized.

"One of the boldest practical jokes ever played at Hope, and one that created the greatest excitement, was perpetrated on the night of the 29th and 30th of last month (March, 1888). Some of the enterprising students kidnapped a calf from one of the citizens of Holland, and a mule from another, and quartered them in the rooms of two of our professors. They then fastened the doors and windows. Friday morning the janitor succeeded in opening the doors and removing the occupants before the close of chapel exercises. The mule did not look as if his night's stay in one of the classic halls of the grammar school building had greatly affected him, while the calf was evidently overjoyed at being released from so unpleasant a lodging place as the upper room in the same building." (THE ANCHOR, April, 1888.)

Hopeites through the years have perhaps been endowed with the same Hope spirit, and the overflow of enthusiasm last week is similar to that of the boys of '88. Times have not changed much. For "Hopeites Old and New," it takes a little "Bull" and "Horseplay" to give us something to tell our grandchildren.

VAN WYK CHOSEN EXTEMPO SPEAKER

John Van Wyk, who last year while attending Northwestern Junior college, Orange City, Iowa, won first place among the state colleges in extemporaneous speaking, was judged the best in the Ex Tempore contest held under the direction of Joe Esther on Wednesday, November 14, in Van Raalte hall. His topic was "The Similarities and Differences of Public Education and Socialized Medicine." Custis Fletcher, Jr., of Paducah, Kentucky, spoke on "France and the Saar Basin," and was selected as Van Wyk's alternate for the state contest to be held in East Lansing, Michigan, November 27. Paul Webinga, for his topic, "Socialized Medicine and Its Effect on the Doctor's Initiative Weighed Against the Poor Patient's Welfare."

COUNCIL GIVES BULLETIN BOARD

Saturday, November 17, another student council project came to fruition. A labor saving device—a bulletin board in the great out-of-doors—will save some weary soul many a trip to Van Raalte hall or the library to see what announcements are for the day. The board is the work of Homer Lokker, freshman student council representative. It is finished in orange and blue, and contains two glass panes, one on either side. The board space measures about four feet long and two and one-half feet wide. It stands about six feet high.

COUNCIL GETS MORE POWER

Approximately 300 students of Hope college declared Monday, November 12, "Glory Day" in order to celebrate Hope's share of the M. I. A. A. football title. A misunderstanding over penalties of "double cuts" given the merry-makers by the faculty caused 232 students to sign a petition stating, "We, the undersigned students of Hope college, refuse to attend classes until the double-cuts given November 12, have been lifted." This petition, however, was not presented to the faculty.

Festivities reached a climax that night at 9 o'clock when Dr. Wynand Wichers, president of the college, met with the students in a mass meeting held in Carnegie gymnasium for the purpose of discussing the problem. Although no statement was given by the president in regard to the probable action of the administration, classes were fully attended Tuesday.

Council Plans Halted Plans of the student council for an organized "Glory Day" were halted late Sunday night at the request of Coach Milton "Bud" Hinga and Dr. Wichers, but student spirit was at such a height that all efforts to stop the celebration failed.

Visit High Schools The "Glory March" started from the Memorial chapel a few minutes before 8 o'clock, and was led by a "gazoot band" composed chiefly of frater freshmen. The orderly mob paraded through the business district of Holland yelling and cheering for the team. The two high schools of the city were visited as well as the Junior High school. Impromptu speeches were given in the auditorium of Holland High school by several members of its faculty. Six members of the Hope football team present were cheered by the students.

March to Theater The students then marched to the Holland theater where a special show was given at 10:30 o'clock by arrangement with the management. At the end of the feature picture, petitions were circulated and signed by 232 students to the effect that they would not attend classes until the double cuts had been lifted.

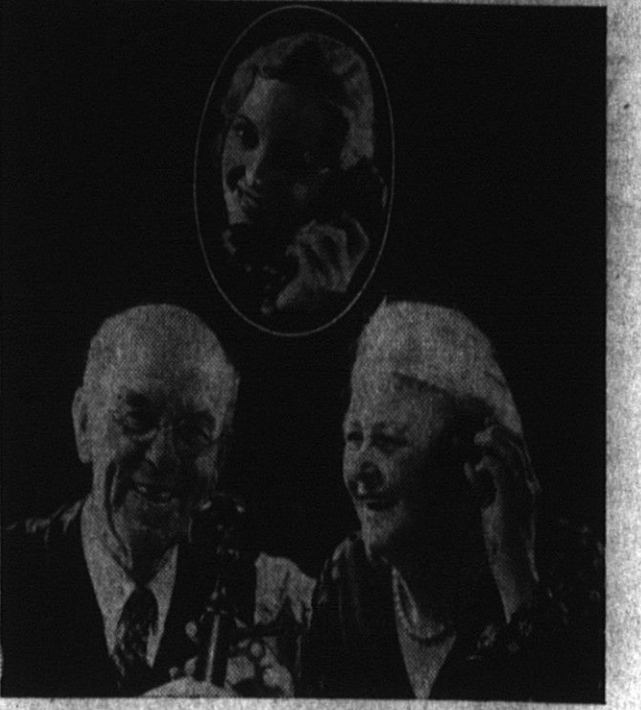

Council Acts The student council headed by Henry Kuizenga, talked the situation over Monday afternoon with Dr. Wichers and voted to call a student mass meeting at 9 o'clock that night in Carnegie gymnasium. A student representative group composed of officers and members of all official campus organizations, met before the general mass meeting and decided its position on the question. Various other meetings during the day and evening boosted college spirit to a high level. The mass meeting was orderly throughout and campus problems were openly discussed. Classes were fully attended Tuesday.

Dr. Wynand Wichers, president of Hope college, and the student council, headed by Henry Kuizenga, met Monday afternoon in the office of the president in Graves hall to discuss present developments of the recent college "glory-day." The "double-cut" episode, which was of major importance last week, was dropped and the discussion centered about the mental, social, and spiritual influence of various organizations on the campus. The Y.M.C.A., ANCHOR, fraternities and sororities were of special interest.

"Fact-Finding Commission" Dr. Wichers stated, in part, before the student body in chapel yesterday morning that the council, by mutual agreement, will act as a "fact-finding commission," and leaders of campus activities will be interviewed at regular intervals, the results of which will be openly discussed in a student mass meeting at a later date. The "prexy" concluded by saying he hoped something constructive would be attained.

"Open-House" Plan In an official statement to the press yesterday morning, Kuizenga told in part, one of the first steps taken by the "commission" to bring the students and faculty in closer social contact. An "open-house" plan whereby fraternity and sorority rooms may be opened to students at various intervals, under faculty supervision, has been devised. Further announcements will be posted on the new student council bulletin board near Van Raalte hall and published in the college

THANKSGIVING, THANK GOODNESS!

By Jean Allen

We hear much of Pilgrim Fathers When Thanksgiving comes around, Of the turkeys that they hunted, And the snow that clad the ground, And the forests near the settlement, Where Indians would lurk— But there to Pilgrim mothers, For, by heck, THEY DID THE WORK!

A weary housekeeper once remarked that the thing she was most thankful for at Thanksgiving was the fact that it only came once a year. So saying, she gave each of her ten children a sound spanking, tucked them in bed, and sat down to plan her Christmas dinner.

In order to save you a lot of work, worry and wear and tear on the disposition, we have designed some menus and recipes with "goodness" as our chief objective, but a careful eye to cost. We hope they will leave you something to be thankful for besides the infrequency of such feasts.

Since "Recovery" has come less rapidly for some people than for others, we offer first a

CONSERVATIVE MENU FOR CONVALESCENT BUDGETS

(Serves six at approximate cost of 50 cents per person):
Fruit Cocktail Supreme*
Roast Stuffed Shoulder of Pork, Apple Stuffing*
Candied Sweet Potatoes Creamed Onions

Celery Cranberry Sauce Olives

If your budget will stand 60 cents a person, use roast chicken instead of the pork.

*Fruit Cocktail Supreme

1 No. 2 1/2 can fruit for salad grapes
1 cup washed seedless white juice of 1 lemon
1 cup grape juice

Drain the fruit for salad, and cut the pieces of fruit to medium size. Add the white grapes and lemon juice to the fruit salad syrup. Chill. Fill cocktail glasses two-thirds full, cover with chilled grape juice, and serve.

*Roast Pork Shoulder with Apple Stuffing

4 lbs. fresh picnic shoulder, desired boned (cushion style fresh) 1/2 teaspoon sage calle) 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon pepper 2 tablespoons water
3 cups dry bread, cubed 1 cup chopped sour apples
3/4 cup butter, melted 1/2 cup seedless raisins, if desired
1 small onion, finely minced, if desired

Wipe the boned meat with a wet cloth; sprinkle inside and out with salt and pepper. Fill with a stuffing made by mixing the remaining ingredients in the order named. Tie or sew in shape. Place roast on a rack in an open roasting pan. Dredge with 1 tablespoon of flour. Sear 15 minutes in a hot oven (500° F.). Reduce heat to 300° F., and cook until tender, or for about 2 1/2 hours. If desired, a cup of hot water may be poured over the roast when it is about done. Make brown gravy with the liquid in the pan.

3/4 cup brown sugar 1 1/2 cups milk (fresh or diluted evaporated)
1 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 cup cream, top milk, or evaporated milk undiluted

Bake in a hot oven (325° F.) for 15 minutes; reduce heat to 325° and bake 30 minutes longer, or until the filling is firm. Serve plain, with meringue, or whipped cream sprinkled with finely chopped nut meats.

On the other hand, if your bankbook permits you to "shoot-the-works," and you want to be thankful in a big way, let's talk turkey.

THANKSGIVING TURKEY DINNER

(Serves six at approximate cost of $1 a person):

Oyster Cocktail
Celery Hearts Wafers Stuffed Olives
Roast Turkey! Stuffing
Giblet Gravy
Stuffed Baked Potatoes Brussels Sprouts Hollandaise Sauce*
Cranberry Waldorf Salad*
Hot Mincemeat Pie
Fruit Cake
Assorted Nuts Cluster Raisins Layer Figs Dinner Mints
*This cost does not include the fact that left-overs will provide a good part of the next day's meal.

*Roast Turkey

Wash the bird in cold water. Wipe dry with a soft cloth. Rub inside and out with 1 tablespoon salt. Fill cavity loosely with stuffing (to allow for expansion), and sew up. Spread legs, breast, and wings with 1/2 cup butter rubbed until creamy with 1/4 cup flour.
Usually turkeys are trussed in order to prevent the flesh of the wings and legs from becoming drier than other parts of the bird. Trussing is done by inserting a skewer through the wings and breast, and another just underneath the legs. Tie the ends of the legs together, and fasten the string to the tail; then wind the ends of the string around the end of the skewer which projects from the legs. Cross the strings over the back, and wind them around the ends of the skewer projecting from the wings.

Sear in a hot oven (475° F.) for 20 minutes, basting with 1/2 cup melted butter mixed with 1/2 cup boiling water. Slide roasting pan from oven, and put 1 1/2 cups water in the pan. Reduce heat to 250° F., and return the bird to oven. Bake until tender, allowing 15 to 20 minutes to the pound; baste every 15 minutes.

For the last half of the roasting, turn bird breast down—this allows the juice to run down into the breast meat instead of dripping away into the pan, and greatly improves the flavor of the bird. When ready to brown the fowl, turn it over and continue baking until it is golden brown. Remove strings and skewers, and serve.

*Brussels Sprouts

Remove wilted leaves and soak the sprouts in cold salted water (1 tablespoon salt to 1 quart water) for 20 minutes to remove insects. Boil uncovered in a generous amount of salted water for 30 minutes, or until tender, and most of the liquid has been evaporated. Drain and serve with Hollandaise Sauce.

Hollandaise Sauce

1/2 cup butter 1/4 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks Few grains cayenne
1 tablespoon lemon juice

To 1/2 of the butter, add the egg yolks and lemon juice. Heat in a double boiler, beating constantly with a silver fork until it begins to thicken. Add another third of the butter, stir constantly, and as the mixture thickens, add the last. Keep water always below boiling point. Continue cooking and beating until the consistency of soft custard. It will curdle if overcooked. Add seasonings.

*Cranberry Waldorf Salad

1 pint cranberries 1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar 1 cup chopped apple
1/2 cup water 1 cup chopped celery
1 package unflavored, slightly 1/2 cup chopped nuts
sweetened gelatin Mayonnaise
1 1/2 cups hot water Lettuce
1/2 cup lemon juice

Boil together the cranberries and 1/2 cup water; sieve, add sugar, and heat to dissolve sugar. Cool.

Dissolve the gelatin in the hot water. Cool slightly, and add the lemon juice. Chill, and when partially thickened, add cranberry mixture, salt, apple, celery, and nuts. Set aside to harden. Serve on lettuce and garnish with mayonnaise.

If there is some special Thanksgiving recipe you would like to have, just drop me a line in care of this paper and I will do my best to find it for you.

Faithfully yours,

JEAN ALLEN.

For the last few years, out of regard for the party in power, we have tried to get away from our Republican ideas about running our government and to get the Democratic point of view. But we have always failed to convince ourselves that we could get out of debt by making more debt and by running up prices. Last Monday, however, a car failed to make the hill in the south end of town in high. It went back to the bottom, reversed and easily went over the top. Maybe we can make the grade reverse.

More than 200 people gathered at the Community hall Tuesday at the P-T-A meeting. Henry Nvenhuis presided. Community singing was led by E. Mosier. Rev. J. A. Roggen opened with prayer. A brief business session was held. A very interesting program was given featuring "The Old Family Album." The audience was first shown the picture in the album and then entertained with a humorous playlet. The following numbers were given: Two country lads, Edwin and Melvin Brink singing rollicking songs; a high-class photographer, Charles Billings, who took the picture of newlows, Henry Nvenhuis and Gladys Tubbervan; a large family, Henry Van Doornink and Mrs. H. Strabbing, and nine children. The heavily heaped and ballheaded monarch failed to get a reduced price notwithstanding the large number in the picture. A kindly old couple, Mr. and Mrs. Reer Kalvord, were charged an exorbitant price without a chance to make a case the picture was a failure. This number was followed by two pretty maidens, Aileen and Edna Davenport, who favored with some old-time popular songs. A school picture and scene with Gladys Tubbervan as teacher and a group of children acting as youngsters used to do in school was very realistic. The village choir and singing school, led by Mrs. J. A. Roggen, made the old folks wish the good old days were here again. Miss Drenthen then appeared as the beautiful cousin. The final picture was the stylish milliner by Mrs. Emery Mosier and numerous customers. The large audience showed appreciation with loud and continued applause. During a social hour refreshments were served by Mrs. Joe Lugten, Mrs. Herman Kach and Mrs. John Brink, Sr.

County Road Report

Twenty-fourth Annual Report of the Board of Supervisors, Ottawa County, Michigan, Sept. 30, 1934.

To the Board of Supervisors:

In making this annual report we have followed very closely the general arrangement of the various items covered in the 1933 report. The chief difference is the addition of information on governmental road projects and the use of men supplied from welfare and unemployment lists, and the effect of changes in legislation on our county road work.

The following is a table of outstanding bonds and dates of maturities:

St. Mary's	2,188.80
St. Maryville	199.24
St. Marysville	980.30
St. Mary's	826.05
St. Mary's	891.35
St. Mary's	3,480.52

PROCEEDINGS of the Board of Supervisors

All the supervisors have a full paid Probation Officer, it doesn't cost the county anything because they bring in more than twice as much as their salary. The friend of the court in this county receives $100.00 per year. In nearly all counties the Probation Officer takes care of this work also as it is about the same kind of work. It is the duty of the friend of the court to collect all money. How many pay alimony in this county? In a good many cases the former husband is working and not paying and the county keeps the family. I can cite cases where the man was arrested, the sheriff's fees were over $300.00 for travel and the man was released because he had no funds. This would not have happened if the case had been investigated.

I am sure I can save this county over $1,000 a year in cash money each year. I have done it for the past two years and can do it again. I will gladly show my Probation book to verify my statement. I have at present 4 men and three women on my list.

Should this Board so desire I would be glad to answer any question they would like to have explained to them.

I thank you,
JACK SPANGLER,
Probation Officer of Ottawa County.

Mr. Misner moved that the report be referred to the committee on County Officers which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ryenga moved that the Board adjourn to this afternoon at 1:30 which motion prevailed.

Report of the Committee on Infirm and Poor

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Ottawa County, Michigan.

Gentlemen:

Your committee on Infirm and Poor visited the Ottawa County Infirmary, Sept. 27, 1934. We visited not only the Home, but also the County Jail, the first class condition, and think the Superintendents and also the manager are to be congratulated on the able manner in which they conduct this institution.

Upon thorough investigation and conference with the superintendents, we have been led to report that because of the large number of inmates (48), it would be utterly impossible to separate the feeble-minded from those of sound mind.

Dated, October 16, 1934.

Respectfully submitted,
LESTER W. MARTIN,
WILLIAM BRUSSE,
Committee on Infirm and Poor.
